

Go Further FAQ:

1. What happens at the conference?

At the conference, you will hear 1-2 keynote speakers, attend 2-4 break-out sessions, have lunch with your group, and attend an undergraduate student panel at the end of the day. We also have a few optional activities that include Trivia during lunch and a Campus tour following the conference.

2. What will I need to bring?

Nothing! We do encourage you to bring a smart device to access the program if you have one. We will have some hard copies as well if you need one. Lab sessions require students to wear long pants with no rips and closed-toed shoes. So, to be safe, we recommend all students dress in this attire.

3. What sessions do you offer?

Our sessions vary at each conference! We offer a variety of sessions in all areas of STEM.

4. Do you accommodate dietary restrictions?

Yes, we work with ISU dining to accommodate all dietary needs. Please let us know if you have a dietary restriction ahead of time.

5. How do students select sessions?

Students will select sessions starting about a month before the conference. Coordinators/parents will get an email with instructions on how to select sessions on our database. Students will have until a week before the conference to select their sessions. At that point, we will place students in sessions.

6. Is it a 'girls' only conference?

As the Program for Women in Science and Engineering our programs are designed for girls but open to all. That means that our Go Further conference will showcase keynote speakers, session presenters, and volunteers inside and outside the university who will share their experiences about being women in STEM.
