Dear Greetings!

Welcome back to the spring semester! On behalf of the Program for Women in Science and Engineering (WiSE), we hope you are getting settled in and enjoying your semester.

As stories of pay inequality are unfolding in the news (see BBC resignation of Carrie Grace and her open letter to viewers) our upcoming salary negotiation workshop is a timely reminder of the importance of putting a fair price on your skills.

Please stop in to the WiSE office at 218 Carver to say hello!

Happy New Year,

Lora Leigh Chrsyal, Director
Program for Women in Science and Engineering (WiSE)
218 Carver Hall, 515.294.0966

Now Hiring Student Role Models for Spring 2018

Do you love STEM and working with kids? Help WiSE inspire girls in the Iowa community by applying to be a Student Role Model!

Please click on the button to join our mailing list.
Ambassadors are student volunteers that help WiSE with our programs and mission. Ambassadors help with prospective student visits and Experience Iowa State Days by sharing WiSE and Iowa State experiences first hand with female high school students. These interactions are key to introducing prospective students to WiSE! Apply here by January 22.

Green Dot Student Bystander Training

Registration OPEN!

The Green Dot Student Bystander Training is designed for student leaders who want to enhance their influence to address power-based personal violence in the community and learn the skills necessary to be an active bystander in preventing sexual assault, dating violence, and stalking.

For more information and to register, please visit here or www.studentwellness.iastate.edu.
Benefits from NCORE-ISCORE Project:
This year-long developmental program on race and ethnicity includes attendance at and participation in NCORE, taking UST 321—a course designed to expand your knowledge of issues around race and provide you with tools to deliver a thought-provoking presentation at ISCORE. Other benefits students can look forward to include:

- Developing leadership skills
- Making a positive impact on the university community
- Networking with students and professionals from across the country
- Getting to know more faculty and staff members at ISU
- Building positive mentoring and peer relationships

Deadline to apply: January 19, 2018
